Withdrawal Guidelines

The Program does not require you to provide substantiation before processing your withdrawal request. However, it is the Account Owner's responsibility to substantiate withdrawals if the IRS or any state or local taxing authority requires you to do so. You should retain receipts, invoices, relevant documents and any other information deemed adequate to substantiate that a particular expense is a qualified higher education expense or that a particular withdrawal was made on account of the death or disability of, or scholarship award to, the Beneficiary, or was due to the Beneficiary's attendance at a United States Military Academy.

A discussion of the tax implications, if any, of taking a withdrawal from the Program appears in the Disclosure Booklet. You can download a copy at www.collegesavingsMS.com or request a copy by calling the Program at 1-800-486-3670.

➤ Qualified Withdrawals

Qualified expenses include the costs of tuition, fees, books, supplies and equipment required for enrollment or attendance at an Eligible Educational Institution. Certain room and board expenses of a Beneficiary at an Eligible Educational Institution are also included, as described below.

Non-qualified expenses include commuting/travel expenses, clothing, incidental items, computer equipment and software unless explicitly required by the Eligible Educational Institution for the Beneficiary's course of study.

An Eligible Educational Institution is generally an accredited postsecondary educational or vocational school that is eligible to participate in federal financial aid programs under Title IV of the Higher Education Act of 1965. Contact your school to determine if it is an Eligible Educational Institution.

Room and board expenses may be qualified if the Beneficiary is enrolled in a degree or certificate-program at least half-time. For students living on campus in institutionally owned or operated housing, the actual amount paid for room and board will be treated as a qualified expense. For students living at home with parents and students not living in institutionally owned or operated housing, the Eligible Educational Institution's "Cost of Attendance" allowance for federal financial aid purposes limits the amount of room and board that may be treated as a qualified expense. Contact your school directly for its "Cost of Attendance".

Refunds If an Eligible Educational Institution refunds any part of the Qualified Withdrawal to the Account Owner or Beneficiary, the earnings portion of the withdrawal may be considered a Non-Qualified Withdrawal unless:

- the refund is used for other Qualified Higher Education Expenses of the Beneficiary.
 - the refund was made due to the death or disability of, or receipt of a scholarship award by, the Beneficiary or was due to the Beneficiary's attendance at a United States Military Academy.
 - the refund is deposited as a contribution to a Qualified Tuition Program Account for a "member of the family" of the Beneficiary within 60 days of the withdrawal.
 - the refund was paid to the beneficiary of, or the estate of, the Beneficiary on or after the Beneficiary's death.

➤ Non-Qualified Withdrawals

Non-Qualified Withdrawals are withdrawals that are not used to pay Qualified Higher Education Expenses and are not due to the death or disability of, or receipt of a scholarship award by, the Beneficiary nor due to the Beneficiary's attendance at a United States Military Academy; nor paid to the beneficiary of, or the estate of, the Beneficiary on or after the Beneficiary's death. You should consult the Disclosure Booklet about the federal and Mississippi tax consequences of taking a Non-Qualified Withdrawal.

A note about Custodial Accounts (UGMA/UTMA): Withdrawals from Custodial accounts must be for a purpose permissible under the Uniform Gifts to Minors Act (UGMA) or the Uniform Transfers to Minors Act (UTMA), respectively.

➤ Other Withdrawals

Other withdrawals are withdrawals due to the death, disability of or scholarship award to the Beneficiary, or due to the Beneficiary's attendance at a United States Military Academy. You should consult the Disclosure Booklet about the federal and Mississippi tax consequences of taking such a withdrawal.

Keep all receipts and other documents to substantiate your expenses.
